Dear Bob:

This is a follow through on our telephone conversation the other day, in respect to your being a judge for National Coin Week.

Judging will take place on Friday, May 30 and this should not impose too much on your time. This year we have roughly two dozen scrapbooks to judge competitively. Although several hundred clubs participate in the observance of the event, few take the trouble to record what they have done.

I regret that the ANA budget does not allow for travel expenses or accomodations for our judges. The sole recognition is the presentation of a certificate of a certificate of appreciation at the National Convention. However, I believe that the resulting publicity will make it worth while for you.

Sincerely,

EDWARD C. ROCHETTE
